

A family is decided as a unit — so it counts as one observation, not thousands

8 of 75 families are classified essentially 0% correct and 32 essentially 100% — 53% of families are decided all-or-nothing. Red = worse than a coin flip on that family.